ABSTRACT
Each religion holy book speaks about as man should love his nearly human beings and show kindness to all living organisms other than men. In the book God enunciate as a rule the men should not commit any mistakes like falsehood, cheat, and theft to social beings. He also explained men must follow the ethics which has deemed as truth and justice. All are made by god to establish faithfulness and relationship between human beings, the ultimate essence of commandment is to not hurt different creatures. Our saviour of men described the rule regarding life in holy book the same should be followed by people for shining their soul as holy-spirit, till end of their life time. Almost every religion lay down the same principles to all disciples.

KEYWORDS : human-beings, kindness, relationship.

Introduction
All Veda signify that every human being is created by god; God liked a creature in the form of men so he imagine the beauty of himself and make a man as his wish. Every religion had focused that God's nature also in the vision of human look. Science has no strong reason to prove how universe discovered. Man is a peculiar creature than other living organism, if we see each organs are located in an orderly manner then why he know and do everything perfectly apart from other living being. Scientifically living organisms work is being proliferation. In science point of view the organism is only to reproductive and not to indulge its sense to happiness by means of mind towards coincide living beings. But according to social science man is a social-animal having all feelings and make good relationship with other human beings.

Meaning of life
People are willing to live a peaceful life in the society. The true meaning of life is contained on following five steps such as confident, love, happiness, help and pity. Each and every person lives confidently in an uncertainty world. Therefore every person expects confident, love, happiness, help and pity from other persons. Mostly people spend half of their life time on worrying about things they desire. The span of life is covered by hazards but a target fixed to earn money to undergo a determined and desirous life. Men are pushed to expose their social position in the living society, subsequently they economically striving to stabilize their status. Science narrate that all living organism in the universe is to reproduce whereas people living in a cultured one to one relationship mode besides nuclear families. Regarding survey indicates everywhere people acquiring wealth because to eat high priced tasty foods in their long life. Hence food takes important place in human's life. At the end of life period most of people make pilgrimage so wish to complete karma in the name of appealing god.

Purpose of living
Man knew the importance of the life so he divided life into two parts namely internal and external environment. The internal environment denote a circumstance there people run their family with attachment and affection. A family consist of parent, children and old age persons those members have responsibilities on family decisions. Also everyone have right among relative members and all their liabilities is to maintain or improve the standard of living in the community. Each separate family has its own prestige in their living strata. Elderly persons induce younger generations to follow few customs consequently the adaption of family tradition. On other side the external environment says about the motive of persons who continuously working for their needs, convenience and luxury. This section covers the person's duty at office/business places.

Human kindness
Human kind is not a vast term but it has a simple meaning by seemingly how one person interact with other person in a sensitive manner. Kindness is conveying pity and lending help toward others. Likewise it is give and take of speaking matters (happiness) of each of those persons. Historically in early man's life the kindness meant to declare love with an uncivilized manner. But modern people embody their own circle filled by some chosen persons, further continuing the life cycle. Kindness is nothing but showing love among persons in order to get relieve on work pain also from living alone tragedy. In the precious life time of human beings there is no compensate for kindness, even anything which people have more desire like gold or valuable articles.

Human thoughts
Human civilization accelerated through his ability of thinking while embrace the environment around him. He can see, hear, smell, taste, and feel the things and persons nearby him. The first step in thinking process is 'what' question arises inside conscience of a person. There is a strong relationship between thinking and feeling without one the other sensitivity will not be happened. The brain is divided into two sections namely right and left brain. The right part of brain functions are creative, imaginary, pictures, colours and intuition (deep inner feeling thoughts) and the left part operations are logical, mathematical, language and speech. Thus right portion works when a person is very sensitive on the other side people act accords with low sensitive, when left brain is on effective. For example a person knows if he daily takes more number of sweets he is suspect to diabetes, but if the same person eat more sweets daily not worry about diabetes means the brain working under high sensitive. Hence the medulla acting as creative.viz, working process of right portion.

Duties and responsibilities of man
Human beings are dynamic in nature involving them in valuable work within their own time schedule. Generally human behaviour are divided in some bilateral groups namely self-controlled/sensitive, friendly/aggressive, introvert/extrovert, positive minded/negative minded, open minded/closed minded, civilized/uncivilized, aware/innocent, good habitual/bad habitual, good tempered/bad tempered, autocratic/slavery, narrow-minded/broad minded, inferiority/superiority, dignity/indignity, truth speaking/liar, boldness/cowardice and happy-minded/sorrow(depressed). But there is common trait among the bilateral groups since they accomplish some works supposed as their duties and responsibilities. Man hold consideration on ethical actions like working meaningfully (flawless), knowing internal and external environment (knowledge) and applying his knowledge to do prudential duties. Obviously there are three sectors such as primary (agriculture), secondary (industries) and tertiary (service) sectors where people work for their subsistence. At work places people have been suggested to not to hate, hurt, disturb other's thing, time and sense in order to do a parallel job to achieve an organisational goal.

Human errors and fate
Almost every human being do right things alone but when they co-operate with others to complete a task it may many times become effortless and inefficient work, this is due to multiple way of commu cnication, thinking and behaviour of each person engaged on that job. While work error situations most person blame other person's work so as to gain from economic matters. Each person follow the same procedure to remove complexity in their work share, conversely if an individual done a perfect job in a united manner then team members will praise him for repercussive job. Life activities proceeding between flaw and praise concept in which people cautiously endeavour matters for their livelihood, ultimately the ideology create stress, harmful health effects to human beings. Human approach on economy seemingly what now is more than what yester periods. Early man fought for food after advent of classical period people struggle against place and now new age man strain to earn more money in the society’s share so the significance of mental and physical illness for people in contemporary era. Fate is the other implicit factor force man to misery. Fate sometimes become failures and sometimes gives successes. We can win a part of fate by our wisdom. An individual person prepare work plan periodically but it not happened as per scheme this may called as destiny. Fate occurs due to congestion of people activities encircled toward a person. There are six principles such as self-ego, self-efficiency, self-pride, confident, desire, expectation(helpfulness) if we manage all the above concepts by self-control, self-regulation with efforts (ignition) one can overcome fate. Approximately fate is like a binomial equation. The golden rule to attain the goal of prosperity is true living to oneself. A men should not posses jealous, greed, anger such characteristic will impair the entire wish (nuclei) of a person. The foremost objective to live a meaningful life is become self-awareness of incur fear on one’s own position (state of mind). As the Bible quotes “Wisdom starts from Fear”.

Relationship among human beings

Human relation with another person is a sacred one determined by their relationship concerned. Men connection with other is like a spider-web consist of family, friends, relatives, neighbours, colleagues and other known nearby persons. They need relationship for their happiness and protection so people follow the customs on participating good and bad events of other person’s environment. The emerging cultural and technologies with passing time challenges changes the work modus of a person, this is called as civilization. Civilization evolves from avoiding disturbances and time reduction. People work with other person’s, thing over a period of time which confers maturity among persons and it influences their thoughts, habits and speeches. Thus older generation give ideas to the younger group. Since human relationship gently moving like this way over centuries. Veda narrates God’s relationship with human beings ends and starts on the judgement day.

Conclusion

Every person likes to live a healthy and wealthy life so as to be a strong-minded person at all occasions. Life is a mixture of actions and reactions with a motivational force at any given situation. People scared of three subjects such as fear, worries and failures. To be clapped two hands are needed likewise to be feel good two persons should make clear liaison with each other in their whole life time. Suspect is a dark one and confident is a bright side. A man has to cross the relation hurdle from gloomy and it has to be brightened. He must accept other person’s likes and dislikes to shake up the mind, also he should try to understand and adjust with others to avoid embarrassment, this will bring up confident among persons. People exert to criticize other person’s wrong actions must obey rules themselves first only then he could operate others through by advices and contempt. Man must know the principle of communication like perceiving place, thing (subject) before speech in their daily walk of life. All such determinations nurture and foster good relationship among persons. Bhagavat Gita explains when churning milk becomes sweet (happiness) and curd is sour (sadness). Man must know about balance of life that means not having over joy and getting too sorrow. When people got maturity in sense of holy- spirit there God will enter their home. When God’s mantra (charming sound waves) poured into our ears ultimately it will help to keep our balance of mind (hearty soul) with divine and peace.
