KEYWORDS : Homoeopathy, 50 millesimal scale

INTRODUCTION

Homeopathy is a system of healing in which the cures take place in Rapid, gentle and permanent way. Taking in the mind of gentle cures, Hahnemann sacrifice most of part of his life and finally gave to the world a new art of healing, what we call today homeopathy system. Firstly, Hahnemann introduce centesimal scale in the 5th edition of organon of medicine in 1833 in sec 270 of "Organon of Medicine". But during his practice time, he faced many problems in treating patient with centesimal scale of potency because this potency did not give rapid cures, one has to wait long time and watch helplessly for the improvement to be seen. Besides the symptom amelioration, undesirable medicinal aggravation comes even after well selected medicine is administered, also Frequent repetition was not possible. Looking into all these drawbacks of centesimal scale, Hahnemann start doing research to minimize the quantity of medicine to get maximum result. After 4-5 year of hard work, he introduces a 'New dynamization method' which he called "new altered but perfect method". Hahnemann found that his goal of 'Ideal cure' was possible in this new potency- 50 millesimal potency.

Because the action of selected medicine was rapid with least or no aggravation and frequent repetition was also possible in this scale even after improvement was seen, but in centesimal scale physician has to wait long time to repeat.

Even after all these advantage, Hahnemann great work of 50 millesimal scale remain in cold storage for long time, firstly because of bungling of his germen publisher and later on after his death due to unexpected greed for money of his 2nd wife Melanie.

Finally, Charles Pahud of France and Pierre Schmidt of Geneva brought out this lost contribution of Hahnemann to the lime light of homeopathic world in first half 1950s. but that time Centesimal scale was fully established in homeopathic world. Hence even after publication of 6th edition. No body give much importance to this "New scale", despite of all these advantages. Even in current time, we homeopaths are not giving much importance to "50 millesimal scale".

Dr. Hahnemann one and only aim was to make the cure of sick rapid, gentle, and permanent which he wrote in aphorism no-2 of Organon of Medicine but what we as a follower of Hahnemann is doing? We are broadly using Decimal or Centesimal scale of potency and giving little importance to 50 millesimal scale.

Of course, we are getting good result from decimal or centesimal scale that's why homeopathy is the 2nd largest system of medicine. If we as a homeopaths start using 50 millesimal scale in our practice. We will get much better result much more success rate. This is only the responsibility of homeopathic practitioner and scholar to move forward and contribute toward the Hahnemann goal of 'Ideal cures'. Because we will only grow when the homeopathy grows.
